

Raleigh Surgery

Autumn Newsletter 2017

There is a definite change in temperature with many changes and exciting things happening at Raleigh Surgery.

Our extremely dedicated Patient Group - Friends of Raleigh Surgery have been very busy over the last few months with fund raising and holding coffee mornings. We are very thankful that the patient group are also offering their support during the flu clinics. The fund raising has gone extremely well and we have saved up enough recently to buy a new Doppler machine - much needed as our existing machine is rather a museum piece, although still works. The groups enthusiasm and support for our little surgery has been overwhelming and very much appreciated. Thank you all.

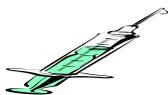

The dedicated group hold a coffee morning on the first Monday of every month and donate delicious homemade cakes - so do pop along and say hello or just join them for a chat and a cuppa and cake for a small donation. The next coffee morning will be held on 4th September in the community room 10.30am - 12.30pm.

Over the next couple of months we have a Year 3 and Year 5 student Doctor studying at the surgery, for learning experience and we would be extremely grateful if you would allow them to be involved in your care and consultations.

We sadly say goodbye to our lovely diabetic nurse Samantha Horne who has been with us over the last year she is moving on to pastures new. We would like to welcome Joanna Green to the team who will be the new diabetic nurse.

It is flu time again and we have flu clinics running throughout September and October.

If you are eligible for a flu vaccine you will be able to book into a clinic from the end of September. The main groups of patients to be included in the flu campaign are 65 year olds and over, pregnant women, people with diabetes, asthma, COPD, heart and kidney conditions, those who are immunosuppressed and those who care for a family member.
